City of Lawrence Department of Public Safety Communications

Telephone Number 317-546-4911

Prepared by Helen A. Taylor, Director of Public Safety Communications.

The City of Lawrence Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) has completed a decade of service and continues to operate as the primary communications link between the residents of our city and our highly responsive emergency services. Our country has been reminded again in recent months about the important roles our first responders-police officers, firefighters and emergency medical service persons-play in the lives of each of our communities.

The City of Lawrence PSAP is a continuously functioning activity that acts as a "trigger" for the rapid deployment of those first responders to meet needs throughout the City. Operating in three shifts, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, PSAP communicators (Director and 12 communicators) rapidly, accurately and effectively receive, process and disseminate information to City Police Officers, Firefighters and EMS Specialists.

The year 2001 saw dramatic changes in technology and facility layout for the PSAP. Four new communications consoles were installed in the facility that was simultaneously remodeled to allow for an additional expansion of two consoles and to brighten and upgrade what had become a rather dark workplace.

Each console contains a computer, two large monitors, a keyboard and headset that allow communicators to receive and track calls, monitor caller ID, dispatch police and fire units, and integrate City of Lawrence operations into the county-wide emergency communications system. This integration also allows for redundancy to be established so that Lawrence communicators can displace to other sites in an emergency with no loss of efficiency.

Soon a third large monitor will be added at each station to allow for the mapping of calls and the location of specific units. This feature will further improve response times by providing cross streets and other references that will allow communicators to assist first responders when they respond to a call for assistance.

Currently, communicators respond to seven "911" phone lines, six Police non-emergency phone lines and four Fire non-emergency phone lines.

Obviously, the introduction of this new system required considerable communicator training. This effort included training on both the new equipment and on new Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) and coding systems.

City of Lawrence Department of Economic Development

Telephone Number 317-549-4823

Prepared by Charles Ricks, Director of Economic Development.

More than ever, the linkage between community and economic development efforts is central to understanding the State of the City of Lawrence. After all, a city is more than bricks and mortar-it is about the people who share space within its boundaries. Thus, the goal is clear:

To provide a safe and secure place for people to live, work and play while building a strong sense of community, based on our shared history and the heritage of Fort Benjamin Harrison.

In 1999 the City of Lawrence published a unique history magazine marking the 150th Anniversary of the founding of Lanesville and Oaklandon, small communities that grew and merged to become the City of Lawrence. The results of Census 2000 reveal just how much we have grown.

Official Census figures released in 2001 reveal that our population stood at 38,915 on April 1, 2000. More than 500 new residences were built in 2001, which, combined with residential construction in 2000, means that our population today is close to 41,000. This makes Lawrence the fastest-growing community in Marion County and the 16th largest city in Indiana.

City of Lawrence Department of Law

Telephone Number 317-549-4801

Prepared by David F. Rees, City Attorney.

The regular and ongoing legal services of advice, document preparation and review and other services for the other departments of city government are a major part of the work of the Legal Department. As a part of that service, the City Attorney drafts appropriate ordinances, resolutions, contracts and other documents and attends, serves as counsel and participates as appropriate in meetings of the Common Council, the Board of Public Works and Safety, the Board of Parks and Recreation, the Economic Development Commission, the Board of Zoning Appeals, the Fire Merit Commission, the Police Pension Board and other boards which have responsibility for various public facilities. In addition, the Lawrence-Fort Harrison Development Corporation, the festival corporation and related committees and other quasi-governmental entities also receive the services of the City Attorney.

Explore Lawrence

The "Explore Lawrence" campaign was unveiled on June 28, 2004 to celebrate the positive aspects of the City of Lawrence and the Lawrence Community. Our community has a lot to offer both residents and businesses.

Recently, our community has dealt with some challenges with regard to negative press about the change in government. We call for democrats, republicans- all citizens of our great community, to unite for the common goal of greater success in Lawrence. The Lawrence City Council and Mayor Deborah Cantwell continue to do great work in helping the community grow and prosper.

Heres just a few things to be proud of —

- ▶ Lawrence was voted #2 in Best Places To Live by CNN/Money Magazine in 2004
- ▶ We have the strongest youth / amateur sports program in the State of Indiana
- ▶ Our schools maintain a standard of education well above the national average
- ▶ Our citizens are continually recognized for "above and beyond" community support

As a Chamber of Commerce, we could not be more proud of "the people" who make our community a great place to live and work! Look for upcoming news and events highlighting our attractions, our businesses, and the residents of our great community.

A big thank you to all who have supported this campaign!
